Having a Bowl

First time fair visitor Brex Intl Pte Ltd is so bowled over by the buyer interest in the company's wood and natural lacquer household items that Director Ms Ho Meng Yee has vowed a return visit.

"Our business has mainly been confined to Singapore, but we are starting to look elsewhere," she said. "We don't get this sort of platform in Singapore where we can attract the attention of so many international buyers."

According to Ms Ho, a steady stream of visitors to their exhibit has ensured the company will be back again.

Brex's wooden bowls, lamp stands and decorative boxes undergo a 15-layer lacquering process using a tree sap lacquer that is food safe.

Because the lacquer is initially applied to a layer of gauze, it does not crack or blister when the product is exported between hot and cold climates.
